

DONUTS WITH DICE

APPLYING TO GRAD SCHOOL

Hear from a panel of Cornell PhD students in economics-related fields about their experiences applying to graduate school

Panelists have successfully applied to Ph.D. and Master's programs in Economics, Applied Economics, and Public Policy

Stay and chat after the panel over donuts & coffee!

FRIDAY, OCT 27 @ 11:30 AM
STATLER 396

Contact dab487@cornell.edu with any questions

WHAT IS DICE?

Diversity in Cornell Economics (DICE) is a graduate student-run organization working to promote equity and diversity in the field of economics at Cornell and beyond.

Events are open to all students. However, underrepresented groups in economics, such as women, people of color, LGBTQ+, and first-gen students, are strongly encouraged to attend!

Contact dab487@cornell.edu with any questions